Reviews

The most effective publication i at any time read. We have study and i am sure that i will likely to read yet again once again in the foreseeable future. You will not truly feel monotony at anytime of your time (that's what catalogs are for about in the event you request me).

Excerpt: . . . the strike and dip of the lamination in the metamorphic rocks of the Ner Remarkable constancy of strike and dip of budda are remarkably constant over large areas. Both near Baitool and about Hurda and Nimawur the strike rarely diverges much from east-north-east to west-south-west, while in the large tract between Chota Oodipoor and Bagh, it is equally constant to a north-west--south-east, direction. In both cases it is generally vertical, and rarely dips at a lower angle than 70. Nor is the constancy of the strike and dip by any means confined to the small area about Hurda, for the same is shown in Mr. J. G. Medicotts map throughout the Nerbudda valley as far as Jubbulpoor, and in a MS. report by Mr. Mallet, on the country between Jubbulpoor and Burwai, the following sentence occurs: The strike of foliation is pretty constant throughout the gneissic area, very seldom exceeding the limits of east and north-east; the usual strike is east 10-25 north, the foliation being, where observable, always close to vertical. I observed a single doubtful exception. The bands of limestone and of schist invariably lie parallel with the foliation. To the italicized portion reference will be made presently; the remark is important, because Mr. Mallets work was entirely independent of that which forms the subject of this report, although he examined a portion of the same ground. The same remarks would not apply to the metamorphic rocks in all parts of India....
